c. N-1.1,
s. 39.1,
added

12. The said Act is amended by inserting, after the heading of Division I of Chapter IV, the following section:

Exception

“39.1 Unless specific reference to such an employee is made in a government regulation, this division does not apply to an employee hired to work on a farm operated

(1) by a natural person, alone or with his consort or a descendant or ascendant of either, with the habitual assistance of not more than three employees;

(2) by a corporation as its principal activity, with the habitual assistance of not more than three employees in addition to the three principal shareholders of the corporation if they work there;

(3) by a partnership or by natural persons acting as co-owners, with the habitual assistance of not more than three employees.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 41.1,
added

13. The said Act is amended by inserting, after section 41, the following section:

Equal
rate

“41.1 No employer may remunerate an employee at a lower rate of wage than that granted to other employees performing the same tasks in the same establishment for the sole reason that the employee usually works less hours each week.

Exception

The first paragraph does not apply to an employee remunerated at a rate of pay which is more than twice the rate of the minimum wage.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 43, am.

14. Section 43 of the said Act is amended by adding, at the end of the first paragraph, the following sentence: “However, any amount in excess of the regular wages, such as a bonus or premium for overtime, earned during the week preceding payment of the wages may be paid with the subsequent regular payment or, where that is the case, at the time prescribed by a particular provision of a collective agreement or decree.”

c. N-1.1,

(a) by a natural person, alone or with his consort or a descendant or ascendant of either, with the habitual assistance of not more than three employees;

(b) by a corporation as its principal activity, with the habitual assistance of not more than three employees in addition to the three principal shareholders of the corporation if they work there;

(c) by a partnership or by natural persons acting as co-owners, with the habitual assistance of not more than three employees.”;

(3) by adding, at the end, the following paragraph:

Regular
workweek

“However, the Government may, by regulation, prescribe the number of hours it determines as the regular workweek for the categories of employees mentioned in subparagraphs 2 and 5 to 8 of the first paragraph.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 55, am.

17. Section 55 of the said Act is amended by adding, at the end, the following paragraphs:

Paid leave to compensate overtime

“Notwithstanding the first paragraph, the employer may, at the request of the employee or in the cases provided for by a collective agreement or decree, replace the payment of overtime by paid leave equivalent to the overtime worked plus 50 %.

Time limit

Subject to a provision of a collective agreement or decree, the leave must be taken during the 12 months following the overtime at a date agreed between the employer and the employee; otherwise the overtime must be paid. However, where the contract of employment is terminated before the employee is able to benefit from the leave, the overtime must be paid at the same time as the last payment of wages.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 60,
replaced

18. Section 60 of the said Act is replaced by the following sections:

Exception

“59.1 This division does not apply to an employee who, under a collective agreement or decree, is entitled to a number of non-working days with pay, in addition to the National Holiday, equal to or greater than the number of days to which employees to whom this division applies are entitled, nor to an employee in the same establishment who is entitled to a number of non-working days with pay, in addition to the National Holiday, equal to or greater than the number stated in the collective agreement or decree.

Statutory general holidays

“60. The following days are statutory general holidays:

- (1) 1 January;
- (2) Good Friday or Easter Monday, at the option of the employer;
- (3) the Monday preceding 25 May;
- (4) 1 July if it falls on a Monday, the Monday preceding 1 July if it falls on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, or the Monday following 1 July if it falls on a Friday, Saturday or Sunday;

- (6) the second Monday in October;
- (7) 25 December.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 61,
repealed
c. N-1.1,
s. 62,
replaced

19. Section 61 of the said Act is repealed.

20. Section 62 of the said Act is replaced by the following section:

Holidays
worked

“62. When a holiday coincides with a working day for an employee, the employer must pay him an indemnity equal to the average of his daily wages for the days worked during the complete period of pay preceding that holiday, excluding overtime.

Remuneration by commission

Notwithstanding the first paragraph, the indemnity paid to an employee remunerated mainly by commission must be equal to the average of his daily wages established from all the complete periods of pay in the three months preceding the holiday.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 65, am.

21. Section 65 of the said Act is amended by adding the following paragraph:

Restriction

“The first paragraph does not confer any benefit on an employee who would not have been entitled to remuneration on a day listed in section 60, except so far as section 64 applies.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 68, am. 22. Section 68 of the said Act is amended by inserting the word “consecutive” after the word “two” in the fourth line.

Division
of leave “The annual leave may also be divided into more than two periods where so requested by the employee, provided the employer consents thereto.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 74, am. 25. Section 74 of the said Act is amended by inserting, after the second paragraph, the following paragraphs:

Higher
indemnity “The Government may, by regulation, determine a higher indemnity than that provided for in this section for an employee on maternity leave.

Maximum indemnity Notwithstanding the second and third paragraphs, the annual leave indemnity shall not exceed the indemnity to which the employee would have been entitled if he had not been absent or on leave owing to a reason mentioned in the second paragraph.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 74.1,
added 26. The said Act is amended by inserting, after section 74, the following section:

Equal
indemnity “74.1 No employer may reduce the annual leave of an employee referred to in section 41.1, or change the way in which the indemnity pertaining to it is computed, in comparison with what is granted to other employees performing the same tasks in the same establishment, for the sole reason that the employee usually works less hours each week.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 75, am. 27. Section 75 of the said Act is amended by replacing the word “The” at the beginning of the first line by the words “Subject to a provision of a collective agreement or decree, the”.

“DIVISION V.1

“LEAVE FOR FAMILY EVENTS”.

c. N-1.1,
s. 80, am. 31. Section 80 of the said Act is amended by replacing the words “of the person to whom he is married or with whom he is living as husband and wife within the meaning of subparagraph b of paragraph 3 of section 1, or of his child,” in the second, third, fourth and fifth lines by the words “of his consort, his child or the child of his consort, or of his”.

c. N-1.1,
ss. 80.1 and 80.2, added 32. The said Act is amended by inserting, after section 80, the following sections:

Absence
for death
or funeral “80.1 An employee may be absent from work for one day, without pay, by reason of the death or the funeral of a son-in-law, daughter-in-law, one of his grandparents or grandchildren, or of the father, mother, brother or sister of his consort.

Notification “80.2 In the circumstances referred to in section 80 or 80.1, the employee must advise his employer of his absence as soon as possible.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 81, am. 33. Section 81 of the said Act is amended

(1) by replacing the words “and for two days at the birth or adoption of a child.” in the second and third lines of the second paragraph by the words “of his father, mother, brother or sister or of a child of his consort.”;

(2) by adding, at the end, the following paragraph:

Notification “The employee must advise his employer of his absence not less than one week in advance.”

c. N-1.1,
ss. 81.1
to 81.17,
added 34. The said Act is amended by inserting, after section 81, the following sections:

Absence
for birth or adoption “81.1 An employee may be absent from work for five days at the birth of his child or the adoption of a child. The first two days of absence shall be remunerated if the employee is credited with sixty days of uninterrupted service.

Division
of leave This leave may be divided into days at the request of the employee. It may not be taken more than fifteen days after the child arrives at the residence of its father or mother.

Notification The employee must advise his employer of his absence as soon as possible.

Exception However, an employee who adopts the child of his consort may be absent from work for only two days, without pay.

Absence
for obligations to minor child “81.2 An employee may be absent for five days per year, without pay, to fulfil obligations relating to the care, health or education of his minor child, in cases where his presence is required due to unforeseeable circumstances or circumstances beyond his control. He must have taken all reasonable steps within his power to assume these obligations otherwise and to limit the duration of the leave.

Division
of leave

The leave may be divided into days. A day may also be divided if the employer consents thereto.

Notification

The employee must advise his employer of his absence as soon as possible.

Examination related to pregnancy

“81.3 An employee may be absent from work without pay for a medical examination related to her pregnancy or for an examination related to her pregnancy carried out by a midwife pursuant to the Act respecting the practice of midwifery within the framework of pilot projects (1990, chapter 12).

Notification

She shall advise her employer as soon as possible of the time at which she will be absent.

Maternity
leave

“81.4 A pregnant employee is entitled to a maternity leave without pay of not more than 18 consecutive weeks.

Beginning

“81.5 The maternity leave may not begin before the beginning of the sixteenth week preceding the expected date of delivery.

Written
notice
of leave

“81.6 The maternity leave may be taken after giving written notice of not less than three weeks to the employer, stating the date on which the leave will begin and the date on which the employee will return to work. The notice must be accompanied with a medical certificate attesting to the pregnancy and the expected date of delivery.

Shorter
notice

The notice may be of less than three weeks if the medical certificate attests that the employee needs to stop working within a shorter time.

Conditions
in certain cases

“81.7 Notwithstanding sections 81.4 to 81.6, the Government may, by regulation, determine the duration of the maternity leave or, where applicable, any extension thereof, the time at which it may be taken, the notices that must be given and the other conditions applicable

- (1) where the delivery takes place after the expected date;
- (2) where there is a risk of miscarriage or a risk to the health of the mother or the unborn child;
- (3) in the case of a miscarriage or stillbirth;
- (4) where the state of health of the mother does not allow her to return to work at the end of the maternity leave.

Medical
certificate

“81.8 From the sixth week preceding the expected date of delivery, the employer may, in writing, require a pregnant employee who is still at work to produce a medical certificate attesting that she is fit to work.

Immediate
leave

If the employee refuses or neglects to produce the certificate within eight days, the employer may oblige her to take her maternity leave immediately by sending her a written notice to that effect giving reasons.

Medical
certificate

“81.9 The employer may require a medical certificate from an employee who returns to work within the two weeks following delivery, attesting to the fact that she is fit to work.

Parental
leave

“81.10 The father and the mother of a newborn child, and a person who adopts a child who has not reached the age of compulsory school attendance, are entitled to parental leave without pay of not more than 34 consecutive weeks.

Exception

This section does not apply to an employee who adopts the child of his consort.

Duration
of leave

“81.11 Parental leave may not begin before the day the child is born or, in the case of adoption, the day the child is entrusted to the employee within the framework of an adoption procedure or the day the employee leaves his work to go to a place outside Québec in order that the child be entrusted to him. It shall end not later than one year after the birth or, in the case of adoption, one year after the child was entrusted to the employee.

Notice
of leave

“81.12 Parental leave may be taken after giving notice of not less than three weeks to the employer, stating the date on which the leave will begin and the date on which the employee will return to work, except in the cases and on the conditions provided for by government regulation.

Notice
of return

“81.13 An employee may return to work before the date stated in the notice given pursuant to section 81.6 or 81.12 or pursuant to a regulation made under section 81.7, provided he has given the employer written notice of not less than three weeks of the new date on which he will return to work.

Failure to report
to work

“81.14 Subject to a regulation made under section 81.7, an employee who does not report to work on the date stated in the notice given to the employer is presumed to have resigned.

Reinstatement

“81.15 At the end of a parental leave not exceeding 12 weeks or a maternity leave, the employer shall reinstate the employee in his former position with the same benefits, including the wage to which he would have been entitled had he remained at work.

Comparable employment At the end of a parental leave exceeding 12 weeks, the employer may, instead of reinstating the employee in his former position, assign him to comparable employment in the same establishment with a wage equal to or higher than that to which he would have been entitled had he remained at work, and with an equivalent pension and insurance plan, where applicable.

Position no longer existing If the position held by the employee no longer exists when he returns to work, the employer shall recognize all the rights and privileges to which the employee would have been entitled if he had been at work at the time his position ceased to exist.

Benefits “81.16 The Government shall, by regulation, determine the benefits to which an employee may be entitled during maternity leave or parental leave, in particular in respect of seniority, the length of his annual leave, the indemnity pertaining to the annual leave, and his participation in the social benefits recognized at his place of work.

Restriction “81.17 Sections 81.4 to 81.16 shall not grant to an employee any benefit to which he would not have been entitled if he had remained at work.”

c. N-1.1, Chap. IV, Div. VI, heading, replaced 35. The said Act is amended by replacing the heading of Division VI of Chapter IV by the following heading:

“NOTICE OF TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT OR LAYOFF, AND WORK CERTIFICATE”.

c. N-1.1, ss. 82 and 83, replaced 36. Sections 82 and 83 of the said Act are replaced by the following sections:

Written notice “82. The employer must give written notice to an employee before terminating his contract of employment or laying him off for six months or more.

Length of notice The notice shall be of one week if the employee is credited with less than one year of uninterrupted service, two weeks if he is credited with one year to five years of uninterrupted service, four weeks if he is credited with five years to ten years of uninterrupted service and eight weeks if he is credited with ten years or more of uninterrupted service.

Notice during lay off A notice of termination of employment given to an employee during the period when he is laid off is null, except in the case of employment that usually lasts for not more than six months each year due to the influence of the seasons.

- Restriction This section does not deprive an employee of a right granted to him under another Act.
- Exceptions “82.1 Section 82 does not apply to an employee
- (1) who has less than three months of uninterrupted service;
 - (2) whose contract for a fixed term or for a specific undertaking expires;
 - (3) who has committed a serious fault;
 - (4) for whom the end of the contract of employment or the layoff is a result of a fortuitous event.
- Compensatory indemnity “83. An employer who does not give the notice prescribed by section 82, or who gives insufficient notice, must pay the employee a compensatory indemnity equal to his regular wage excluding overtime for a period equal to the period or remaining period of notice to which he was entitled.
- Payment The indemnity must be paid at the time the employment is terminated or at the time the employee is laid off for a period expected to last more than six months, or at the end of a period of six months after a layoff of indeterminate length, or a layoff expected to last less than six months but which exceeds that period.
- Computation The indemnity to be paid to an employee remunerated mainly by commission is established from the average of his weekly wage, calculated from the complete periods of pay in the three months preceding the termination of his employment or his layoff.
- Recall privileges “83.1 In the case of an employee who, under a collective agreement, is entitled to recall privileges for more than six months, the employer is bound to pay the compensatory indemnity only from the first of the following dates:
- (1) the expiry of the recall privileges of the employee;
 - (2) one year after layoff.
- Exceptions An employee referred to in the first paragraph shall not be entitled to the compensatory indemnity
- (1) if he is recalled before the date on which his employer is bound to pay the indemnity and if subsequently he works for a period equal to or longer than that of the notice prescribed by section 82;
 - (2) if he is not recalled owing to a fortuitous event.

Standards for certain public employees

“83.2 The Government may, by regulation, determine standards which vary from those provided for in sections 82 to 83.1 in respect of employees governed by the Public Service Act who, without being permanent employees, are entitled to recall privileges by virtue of their conditions of employment.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 85,
replaced

37. Section 85 of the said Act is replaced by the following section:

Uniform

“85. Where an employer requires the wearing of a uniform, he must supply it free of charge to an employee who is paid the minimum wage.

Payment

The employer cannot require an amount of money from an employee for the purchase, use or upkeep of a uniform if this payment causes the employee to receive less than the minimum wage.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 87,
replaced

38. Section 87 of the said Act is replaced by the following section:

Informational documents

“87. At the request of the Commission, the employer shall distribute to the employee any informational document on labour standards furnished by the Commission.

Display

The Commission may also oblige the employer to display any such document in a place it considers appropriate.”

c. N-1.1,
s. 88, am.

39. Section 88 of the said Act is amended

(1) by inserting the words “in a vacation camp or” after the word “employed” in the ninth line of the first paragraph;

c. N-1.1,
s. 122.2,
added

56. The said Act is amended by inserting, after section 122.1, the following section:

Dismissal prohibited

“122.2 No employer or his agent may dismiss, suspend or transfer an employee who has three months of uninterrupted service on the ground that he was absent by reason of illness or accident for a period not exceeding 17 weeks in the preceding 12 months.

Good and sufficient cause

Nothing in the first paragraph shall prevent an employer or his agent from dismissing, suspending or transferring an employee if, in the circumstances, the consequences of the illness or accident or the repetitive nature of the absences constitute good and sufficient cause. In addition, at the end of an absence by reason of illness or accident which exceeds four consecutive weeks, the employer may, instead of reinstating the employee in his former position, assign him to comparable employment in the same establishment with a wage equal to or higher than that to which he would have been entitled had he remained at work, and with an equivalent pension and insurance plan, where applicable.

Exception

This section does not apply in the case of an industrial accident or occupational disease within the meaning of the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases (R.S.Q., chapter A-3.001).”

Assertion of employee's rights

“123. An employee who believes he has been the victim of a practice prohibited by section 122 or 122.2 and who wishes to assert his rights must do so before a labour commissioner appointed under the Labour Code in the same manner as if it were a case of dismissal, suspension or transfer, or the practice of discrimination, the taking of reprisals or the imposition of any other sanction by reason of the exercise of a right arising under the Labour Code. Sections 15 to 20, 118 to 137, 139, 139.1, 140, 146.1 and sections 150 to 152 of the Labour Code then apply, adapted as required.”;

(2) by replacing the first sentence of the second paragraph by the following sentence: “Notwithstanding section 16 of the Labour Code, the period within which a complaint must be filed with the labour commissioner general is 45 days.”;

(3) by adding, at the end of the second paragraph, the following sentence: “The labour commissioner general shall transmit a copy of the complaint to the Commission.”;

(4) by replacing the last paragraph by the following paragraph:

Representation by Commission “The Commission may, in any proceedings relating to this division, represent an employee who is not a member of a group of employees contemplated by a certification pursuant to the Labour Code.”

c. N-1.1, ss. 123.2 and 123.3, added 58. The said Act is amended by inserting, after section 123.1, the following sections:

Presumption “123.2 The presumption resulting from the application of the first paragraph of section 123 shall continue to apply for not less than 20 weeks after the employee has returned to work at the end of a maternity leave or parental leave.

Settlement “123.3 The Commission, with the agreement of the parties, may appoint a person who shall endeavour to settle the complaint to the satisfaction of the parties.

Restriction Only a person who has not already acted in the matter in question in another capacity may be appointed for this purpose by the Commission.

Confidentiality Any verbal or written information gathered by the person appointed under the first paragraph must remain confidential. He may not be compelled to divulge anything that has been revealed to him or that has come to his knowledge in the performance of his duties, or to produce before a court or before any body or person fulfilling a judicial or quasi-judicial function any document made or obtained in the performance of his duties. Notwithstanding section 9 of the Act respecting Access to documents held by public bodies and the Protection of personal information (chapter A-2.1), no person shall have a right of access to any such document.”

72. Section 3 of the Act respecting hours and days of admission to commercial establishments (1990, chapter 30) is amended by replacing paragraph 5 by the following paragraph:

“(5) 1 July if it falls on a Monday, the Monday preceding 1 July if it falls on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, or the Monday following 1 July if it falls on a Friday, Saturday or Sunday;”.

TRANSITIONAL AND FINAL PROVISIONS

Effect deferred

73. With the exception of the standards provided for in sections 81.3 to 81.17 and, where they relate to any such standard, the second, third and fourth paragraphs of section 74, paragraph 6 of section 89, Division IX of Chapter IV, Divisions I and II of Chapter V and Chapter VII of the Act respecting labour standards as amended by this Act, the effect of the labour standards introduced by this Act is deferred in respect of employees

(1) to whom a collective agreement within the meaning of the Labour Code in force on 1 January 1991 or signed between 1 January 1991 and 1 April 1991 applies;

(2) governed by a collective agreement within the meaning of the Labour Code which has expired on 1 January 1991 if the parties have by that date undertaken negotiations for its renewal;

(3) contemplated by a certification within the meaning of the Labour Code granted before 1 January 1991 if the parties have by that date undertaken negotiations with a view to concluding a first collective agreement.

Date of application

In these cases, the new labour standards shall apply from the expiry of the collective agreement in force on 1 January 1991 or signed between 1 January 1991 and 1 April 1991, from the time maintenance of the conditions of employment under a clause of the collective agreement or under section 59 or 93.5 of the Labour Code ceases to be mandatory or from 1 April 1991, whichever is the later.

Applicability of certain labour standards

74. Where the Act respecting labour standards becomes applicable to an employee, a person or a body by the effect of section 2 or paragraph 1 or 2 of section 3 of this Act, the labour standards which do not apply by the effect of section 73 also include any labour standards that were not applicable to that employee, person or body before the coming into force of this Act.

Provisions applicable

75. The first paragraph of section 73 applies, adapted as required, to employees to whom a collective agreement decree within the meaning of the Act respecting collective agreement decrees applies on 1 January 1991, and to employees governed by a collective agreement decree adopted by the Government before 1 April 1991, until the expiry date of the collective agreement decree.

Automatic renewal

Where the collective agreement decree contains an automatic renewal clause, for the purposes of this section the collective agreement decree is deemed to expire one year after the first automatic renewal occurring after 1 January 1991, unless it is otherwise terminated before that date.

Continued application

76. A labour standard contained in the Act respecting labour standards which applies to employees referred to in sections 73, 74 and 75 on 31 December 1990 shall continue to apply to those employees until the new labour standard introduced by this Act applies to them.

Provisions applicable

77. The second paragraph of section 113 of the Act respecting labour standards, introduced by section 50 of this Act, applies only in respect of salary owed from 1 January 1991.

Dismissals without good cause

78. The provisions of the Act respecting labour standards as they read before being amended by sections 59 to 64 of this Act shall remain in force in respect of dismissals not made for good and sufficient cause made before 1 January 1991.

79. Sections 125 to 134 of the Act respecting labour standards as they read before being amended by sections 60 to 64 of this Act apply to dismissals not made for good and sufficient cause made between 1 January 1991 and 31 May 1991.

Dismissals without good cause

However, notwithstanding section 135 of the Act respecting labour standards, the fees and expenses of the arbitrator shall, in such cases, be paid by the Commission des normes du travail, in accordance with the tariff established by regulation under section 103 of the Labour Code.

Arbitrator's fees and expenses

The arbitrator shall send his letter of appointment as arbitrator in the case concerned to the Minister of Labour with his detailed account. The Commission shall pay the fees or expenses only after they have been approved by the Ministère du Travail.

Approval
before payment

80. The 30-day limit mentioned in section 126 of the Act respecting labour standards, as amended by section 61 of this Act, for an application to have a complaint referred to the labour commissioner general cannot be set up against an employee whose complaint has been rejected by an arbitrator on the ground that it was not referred to the appropriate authority by reason of the date on which the employee was dismissed.

Restriction

81. The provisions relating to maternity leave contained in the Regulation respecting labour standards (R.R.Q., 1981, c. N-1.1, r. 3) that are consistent with sections 81.4 to 81.17 of the Act respecting labour standards, enacted by section 34 of this Act, shall remain in force until replaced or repealed.

Regulations
in force

82. The Government may, by regulation made before 1 January 1992, fix a later date for the application of sections 41.1 and 74.1 of the Act respecting labour standards, enacted by sections 13 and 26 of this Act, in respect of the categories of employees or employers determined by the Government.

Date of application

The Government may also, by regulation made before 1 January 1992, suspend the application of sections 41.1 and 74.1 in respect of the categories of employees or employers it determines. In this case, it may, by a subsequent regulation, terminate the suspension and determine a later date for the application of the said sections.

Suspension of application

A regulation made under this section may, instead of determining a later date for application, provide for a progressive adjustment of

Progressive adjustment

the rate of pay, the length of the annual leave or the indemnity relating to it for the employees concerned, according to the dates determined by the Government.

Coming into force

83. The provisions of this Act will come into force on 1 January 1991, with the following exceptions:

(1) section 2, paragraph 1 of section 3, section 4, paragraphs 17 to 19 of section 30 of the Act respecting labour standards, enacted by section 10 of this Act, section 12, paragraphs 2 and 3 of section 16, sections 18 to 21, paragraph 3 of section 39, paragraph 1 of section 40 and section 65, which will come into force on 1 April 1991;

(2) sections 60 to 64, which will come into force on 1 June 1991;

(3) section 6, which will come into force on 1 July 1991;

(4) sections 13 and 26, which will come into force on 1 January 1992.
