DIVISION II

ISSUE OF LICENCES

Conditions

10. The Commission shall issue a trucking licence to an applicant who satisfies the requirements prescribed by this Act and the regulations, if any, and who possesses the qualifications required to carry on the activities for which the licence is sought, unless an interested person who objects to the issue proves that the granting of the licence would be likely to have a detrimental effect on the public interest.

Public interest

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Commission shall convene a public hearing where an interested person who objects to the issue of the licence establishes, to the satisfaction of the Commission, that the carrying on of the activities for which the licence is sought will affect the services he is providing to users under his licence to the point of being likely to have a detrimental effect on the public interest; in no case, however, may a decrease in business or income that could be caused by the carrying on of the activities for which the licence is sought be considered as being likely to have a detrimental effect on the public interest.

Basis for decision

15. The Commission, in assessing the public interest to decide the merit of an objection, shall

(1) give primary emphasis to the interests of users of truck transportation services, whether those services are provided by the applicant or not, taking into account the following factors:

(c) the increased capacity of the trucking industry to adapt to the various needs of users;

mits

17. The Commission may, on the conditions prescribed by regulation of the Government, if any, grant trip permits and, for such limited time as it may fix, temporary licences to meet the needs of an emergency.

Period of disqualification 22. The Commission may refuse to issue a trucking licence until five years have elapsed after the date on which the applicant or a person referred to in section 21

(1) was convicted of or pleaded guilty to an offence against this Act or any of the regulations hereunder and for which he has not obtained a pardon; or

(2) finished serving his sentence or, as the case may be, began his probation period in the case of an indictable offence connected with the operation of a transportation service or the driving of a road vehicle, and punishable by a term of imprisonment of five years or over and for which he has not obtained a pardon.

It may then refuse to issue the licence if the applicant fails to establish that the licence should be delivered according to the criteria applicable before 13 January 1988.
